“IT’S A LONG ROAD” FOR ZACHARY HUNTER

SINGER/SONGWRITER RELEASES NEW SINGLE, JANUARY 21

NASHVILLE, TN. (January 21, 2008) -- Zachary Hunter is set to release “It’s A Long Road” today, January 21 (CDX Vol. 440).

Written by Hunter, “It’s A Long Road” is the fourth single from his Wolf / Aspirion Records CD, In Your Dreams. Since its release in late-2006, In Your Dreams and Hunter have won consistently strong reviews, including this recent praise from All Music Guide: “Zachary Hunter is the real deal – a solid country-rock singer/songwriter whose music stands up favorably to that of any of the current male stars of Nashville-centric country radio.”

Produced by Hunter and veteran hit man, Ed Stasium, “It’s A Long Road” is a tune that goes inside a budding relationship, with the moral of the story being: get your ducks in a row before making a lifelong commitment.

I’m not saying we can’t spend our lives together / We both have forever on our mind / The one word I would never say is “never” / But you can’t pick corn before it grows / And love is the same way.

Buoyed by a bouncy fiddle riff laid down by string master, Stuart Duncan, “It’s A Long Road” chugs along with a happy beat provided by world class groove-meisters Kenny Aronoff on drums and Bob Babbitt on bass. Add to the mix a superb guitar solo from Nashville A-list-er, Brent Mason, and cool harmonies from Kathie Baillie, Michael Bonagura, and Alyssa Bonagura – all supporting Hunter’s confident vocal – and you have the makings for a cool springtime radio hit.
